1. Personnel of the I.C. Frimu (Floreasca Hospital) were called upon to assist the Communists in Korea by contributing clothing, funds or personal services. Professor Ion Turai, in charge of surgery instruction at the hospital was ordered to Korea to serve there as were several nurses. According to informant, Turai attempted to avoid going by producing a medical certificate of ill health but he was unsuccessful.
2. A Professor Iaganov is in charge of the hospital clinic.
3. There is a great shortage of drugs and medical equipment and the hospital lacks supplies of adrenalin, theobromine and syringes. Needles, bandages and cotton are plentiful, however.
4. There are 500 medical students in their fifth year of medical school. Forty-five were recently commissioned as medical officers in the Rumanian Army. Of the civilian students at the hospital, informant estimated that ninety per cent were against the regime and of the military students there, seventy per cent were anti-Communist.
5. According to informant, in 1950, approximately 20 students at the medical school joined a movement for the overthrow of the Government; they were found out and arrested.
